

We would like to take this opportunity to remind you WHY you choose Design Hardware.

Our Promise

1. We will continue to drive speed into the distribution of our product so that you can allocate resources to making your company more and more flexible and not heavy with inventory.
2. We will continue to seek ways to make available any online and information technology for the purpose of informing end-users and streamlining our communication with our distribution.
3. We will continue to sell our Design Hardware brand through a limited distribution channel so that you reap the benefits of promoting our brand.
4. We will continue to grow our product line within the Door and Hardware Institute's defined segments for Door Hardware application – Hanging a door, Closing a door, Latching a door and Protecting a door.
5. We will continue to assess market conditions and offer competitive market-bearing price points, along with unequivocally high quality manufacturing and service standards.
6. We will continue to strengthen our presence within the arenas of architectural and construction specifications.
7. We will never forget that it is YOU, the distributor, which makes our living.

For the many lives that you directly and indirectly touch by your use of Design Hardware products, thank you for your continued support.

Sincerely,
Your Design Hardware Team
